

Fall 2013/Spring 2014 Speaker Series

Capilano University

The Salish Sea

NATURE AND A SENSE OF PLACE

Dr. Rob Butler of the Pacific Wildlife Foundation searches for the roots of Salish Sea culture, seeking insight into its diverse and abundant natural world.

7 p.m.
Tuesday, Sept 24
NSCU Centre for the Performing Arts
Capilano University

a free event presented by EarthWorks

A free event presented by EarthWorks, First Nations Student Services, and the School of Outdoor Recreation Management

Quartz

A SURF AND SUP FILM ABOUT A THREATENED COAST

STAND

THURS, NOV 21, 7 p.m.
Screening Room
BOSA Centre for Film and Animation
Capilano University

SHOWCASING THE WEST COAST OF BRITISH COLUMBIA AND WHAT'S AT STAKE WITH THE PROPOSED ENBRIDGE NORTHERN GATEWAY PIPELINE - TANKER ROUTE

BY BRUCE BLAFFER-VEEDA & SCOLAR TESCHER PHOTOGRAPHY

POSSIBLE
SHERIDAN
KAMRAN BACHIRI
DALLA HILLA BRIBRIBRIGOL

WWW.STANDFILM.COM

CAPILANO UNIVERSITY

Capilano University logos and sponsors: EarthWorks, BOSA, and others.

A free event presented by EarthWorks

DR. DANIEL PAULY

Fishing down the food chain

Dr. Daniel Pauly is a professor at the Fisheries Centre & Zoology at UBC and a principal investigator for the Sea Around Us project

7 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 27
BlueShore Financial Centre for the Performing Arts

CAPILANO UNIVERSITY

A free event presented by EarthWorks

Pollination crisis?

Wild bees are at risk of extinction. Dr. Elizabeth Elle, professor at the Department of Biological Sciences at SFU, talks about the diversity of wild bees in B.C. and beyond, the threats to their survival, and the impact on human crop production.

7 p.m. Thursday, March 6
BlueShore Financial Centre for the Performing Arts

CAPILANO UNIVERSITY

A free event presented by EarthWorks

Salmon Forests

THE INTERCONNECTIONS OF BEARS, FORESTS, AND SALMON

Dr. Tom Reimchen is a professor in the Department of Biology at the University of Victoria

7 p.m. Wednesday, March 12
BlueShore Financial Centre for the Performing Arts

CAPILANO UNIVERSITY