Class work

Students will be required to practice writing new vocabulary with both Pinyin (Romanized Phonetics) and Chinese characters, translating sentences and paragraphs between English and Chinese on a weekly basis with written assignments marked to measure their language and reading abilities. They will be participating in classroom discussions on a regular basis with questions and answers through individual, pair and group work with measurement of understanding, listening and speaking skills. Cultural introduction will be blended into classroom teaching with demonstration through CDs and other media means.

Tests/Exams

Two written compositions will need to be completed with specific topics selected during the term. Students will take three written tests, a written Mid-term Exam and a Final Exam.

Language labs provide the opportunity to further develop listening and pronunciation skills. Students must attend the Language Resource Centre (LRC in Arbutus 117) to complete assigned material (typically 45 minutes per week). The LRC will be open on a drop-in basis. Mark will be based on completion of weekly assignments.

Students will participate in a one hour conversation seminar on a weekly basis, during which oral exercises will be conducted based on lessons learned in the lecture.

Participation

Participation represents a significant part of the course, not just in the percentage of your grade but, more importantly, in the impact that it has on your learning and the environment in which we all work. Students are expected to come prepared to participate in all course activities by having done the assigned homework beforehand. During these activities, students should speak Chinese as much as possible. Students are also expected to follow the basic rules of courtesy (and the Capilano Student Code of Conduct).
