

COMMUNITY CAPACITY BUILDING CITATION

BUILD SKILLS TO SUPPORT SOCIAL CHANGE

Do you volunteer or work in a community organization?

Do you love working with people to improve your community?

Do you want to improve your skills?

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Community Capacity Building (CCB) Citation provides applied Community Development training and is taught in an engaging, supportive environment. Students focus on real issues that are important to them and explore how they can play a role in creating the community they want to live in.

ADMISSION INFORMATION

- BC Secondary School Graduation (Grade 12) or equivalent or mature student status
- Interview with a faculty member
- Experience volunteering with a community based organization

FORMAT

Complete your Community Capacity Building Citation in just two terms.

Fall 2017 (September to December): CCB 100

This foundation course explores the history, principles and practices of Community Development

Spring 2018 (January to April): CCB 105

This course allows for opportunities to build concrete skills to support social change.

Classes are three hours, once a week, and are held at a community-based location in Vancouver.
