COURSE PREREQUISITES

45 credits of 100-level or higher coursework and HKIN/KINE 151

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

This course will build on the movement assessment skills introduced in KINE 151 and further refine qualitative analysis. Students will analyze human movement to improve performance of a skill or reduce the risk of injury during movement. This course encourages higher levels of critical thinking such as synthesis and evaluation, while blending techniques and information from the disciplines of Exercise Rehab, Exercise Psychology, Exercise Physiology and Motor Control and Learning.

REQUIRED TEXTS AND/OR RESOURCES

Knudson, D. (2013). Qualitative Diagnosis of Human Movement: Improving Performance in Sport and Exercise (3rd edition). Windsor, ON: Human Kinetics Publishers.

COURSE STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

On successful completion of this course, students will be able to do the following:

1. Evaluate human movement in both anatomical and mechanical terms.
2. Collect qualitative and quantitative movement analysis data and interpret it within the context of current research.
3. Analyze movement patterns and apply them using fundamentals from exercise rehabilitation, exercise psychology, exercise physiology and motor control.
4. Compose biomechanical models and appraise their strengths and limitations.
5. Assess biomechanical models and tools and appraise their strengths and limitations.

DEPARTMENT OR PROGRAM OPERATIONAL DETAILS

Participation:

This mark, if included as part of the assessment items by the instructor, is based on both the frequency and quality of the student's comments, questions, observations, and involvement, with the emphasis on quality. The quality is determined by, among other things, the relevance, insight and clarity of remarks. Preparing the required readings will support a student's ability to participate. The participation mark is also influenced by professionalism (as described below), attitude and punctuality.

Professional Behaviour:

Students must demonstrate a professional attitude and behaviour toward work, fellow students and their instructors. Each student should demonstrate reliability, respect for and cooperation with colleagues. A willingness to work calmly and courteously under difficult conditions as well as a determination to achieve first-class work while meeting deadlines is necessary. Students should display a constructive response to criticism. Professional behaviour include appropriate language use. Appropriate language use involves using respectful, moderate, and inclusive language at all times.

Copyright Policy:

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and abide by the University's Copyright Policy. The University's Copyright Policy is published on the University website.
