

Associate Of Arts Degree

Design your own two-year program

In the Associate of Arts Degree at CapU, you can build your own two-year program by selecting a mix of arts and sciences courses that work for you.

Get a background in a variety of disciplines

Develop your critical thinking, writing and research skills as you pursue your areas of interest. Select from first- and second-year courses across five faculties, with options ranging from social sciences and humanities to business, math and the creative arts.

Move your credits into a bachelor's degree

Once you have completed your 60-credit associate degree, you can ladder your credits into many of CapU's four-year degree programs, including the Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts with a Major in Interdisciplinary Studies and the Bachelor of Arts with a Major in Psychology.
