

School of Humanities

Study arts at CapU

In the School of Humanities at Capilano University, you'll explore your personal and academic interests to create a well-rounded arts education.

Learn from experienced instructors

Instructors at CapU are established in their fields and dedicated to teaching and offering interactive, vibrant learning experiences. They care about your growth and success and are available to talk one-on-one inside and outside the classroom.

Complete your degree

In addition to associate degrees in Arts, Creative Writing and English, we offer two Bachelor's Degrees: Interdisciplinary Studies and Writing and Literature, so you can start and finish your degree at CapU. Courses are transferable to other post-secondary institutions across B.C., so you can freely move your credits to another university as well.
